

Suggestions for Home Reading

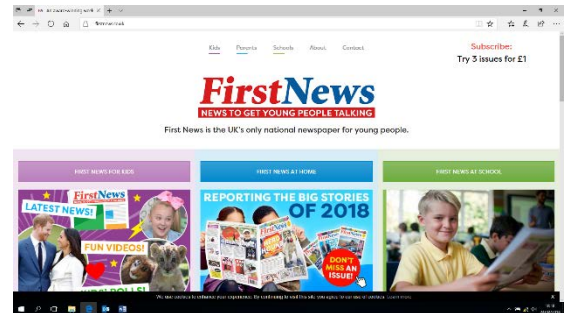

Reading independently at home is an obvious way to raise the confidence of learners in their literacy abilities. This can be very difficult to encourage but is well worth it. Many of these can be accessed as E-books so they can be read on students' tablets/phones!

Here are some suggestions with links for books considered appropriate for each age group. While we do endorse these suggestions, books should be chosen AT YOUR DISCRETION as many of the best classics deal with hugely complex and challenging moral issues and events.

We hope this helps those of you who have asked us for advice support our young people in broadening their horizons.

Happy Reading!

Online Newspapers are an excellent place to start:

First News is a newspaper for young people so should be safe from overly-controversial topics.
